Did You Know...?

Robert R. Coles

For several years the writer has enjoyed searching for odd and sometimes paradoxical facts about Long Island. A few of these are listed here in the hope that they will amuse Forum readers.

Thousands of people know of Sagamore Hill, home of the late Theodore Roosevelt, our twenty-sixth president. Far fewer are aware, however, that the elevation where the Mill Neck Railroad Station stands, about three miles west of T. R.'s home, was called Sagamore Hill during the end of the nineteenth century and is so designated on many deeds and other legal documents of the time.

In Glen Cove there is a Baptist Church that prominently displays the Star of David. It was formerly a synagogue.

Also in Glen Cove the United States Post Office has nothing upon it to indicate the name of the city it serves; only "United States Post Office."
